

Discover Cape Town's 'hidden gems'

ULTIMATE INDULGENCE: The uninterrupted view of Table Mountain from Bishops court has to be seen to be believed.

The Last Word spokesperson

THE Last Word is a luxury brand comprising five, five-star boutique hotels, each pleasingly different in style, scenic beauty and activities, yet linked by the same distinct, superior standard of hospitality. And there's Princess Emma, a motorised 85-foot yacht – the last word in extravagance. Carefully chosen for spectacular outlooks of mountain, sea or garden, each hotel is a hidden gem offering unparalleled peace and comfort. Features include large rooms with ensuite bathrooms, private patios, sparkling pools, tranquil gardens and the last word in indulgence.

The Last Word Bishops court in Cape Town's leafy southern suburbs close to Kirstenbosch National Botanical Garden and world-class golf courses. These offerings have views of majestic Table Mountain. The Last Word Long Beach is on the water's edge in the picturesque lobster-fishing village of Kommetjie. It has sea-facing suites and inspiring ocean views from Hout Bay to Table Mountain. The Last Word Sea Five is on the trendy Atlantic seaboard, under the Twelve Apostles mountain range. Sidewalk cafés, bars and a casual, relaxed atmosphere make this hotel a beachcomber's paradise. The sparkling nightlife attracts the young, as well as the young at heart. While in the winelands The Last Word heart of Franschoek village, the wine and gourmet capital of South Africa. The hotel is a minute's walk from award-winning restaurants, boutique shops and art galleries.

The outstanding compelling feature of all these properties is irresistible charm.

South African residents may take advantage of the two-night domestic seasonal package of R825 a person per night at all The Last Word properties.

The Last Word is a member of Mantis Preferred Boutique Hotels.

To book, email info@thelastword.co.za or call 021 794 6561.

Visit The Last Word website at www.thelastword.co.za

Hotel situated in Hout Bay allows guests to book live on Facebook

Hout Bay Manor spokesperson

THE historical five-star Hout Bay Manor has married old with new and become what is believed to be the first hotel in South Africa to give guests the convenient option to make a reservation via its newly introduced Facebook page.

Comments general manager Alex Mueller: "We realise that time is of the essence for guests wishing to book instantly and this avenue is yet another way for us to provide an even smoother service. In time we hope to extend the booking accessibility for guests to make appointments at the Inzolo Wellness Suite and Pure restaurant."

Visit www.houtbaymanor.com

